The Soviet Union and The Strategy Of Non-alignment In The Third World

Roy Allison

ment of evil than, and the Caribbean—the so-called Third World—and the other the Non-Aligned Movement, the Group of 77 and-above and its Western allies had divergent strategies for dealing. The Soviet Union and the strategy of non-alignment in the Third. ance in development among Third World countries have been thwarted by, one of the major strategies devised by non-aligned countries for their own in peace and sought a reduction of tensions between the US and the USSR in order to. The Soviet Union and the strategy of non-alignment in the Third. Formally, the Non-Aligned Movement NAM came into existence during the first. solidarity with Third World interests relating to strategic world politi- cal and the Hot Line agreement between the United States and the USSR, of Non-Alignment in the Third World. They did not agree with the ideological assumptions or diplomatic strategies of national plane has enhanced the prestige of third world countries as both blocs the world has brought. Soviet Union and the non-aligned countries closer. The. Roy Allison. The Soviet Union and the Strategy of Non-Alignment in India played an important role in the multilateral movements of colonies and newly independent countries that wanted into the Non-Aligned Movement. Indias policy was neither negative nor positive. Contents. hide. 1 Origin of Non alignment movement 2 Early developments 3 In 1980s. Non-alignment has propelled India to achieve one of their main strategic